How to Start a Painting Business for $50 and Make 100k: Start Your Own Painting Business Fast Josh Shelton
One of the hardest things for most people to understand is how to start a business. And for me, as a painting business owner, I see people all the time who don't have a clue what to do to start a business.

The biggest mistake I see people make when starting a business is that they start BIG, instead of starting small...

I started my now 100k a year painting business for under $50.

Yep.

Here's what I did. I called a contractor that I use to work for.

I knew that contractor flipped houses. After all, I use to work for him.

When I called him, I asked him if he'd be open to having me do the painting on the houses he worked on for a local bank.

He said he didn't like doing the painting on the houses and he would be glad to let me try.

Literally, I made one phone call to a contractor I knew and then something crazy started happening.

I got job after job through my CONTRACTOR FRIENDS CONTACTS, not my own. He recommended me to people and I got lots of work.

I DIDN'T:

-Go out and get an investor.

-Buy a truck before I had work.

-Buy expensive, non essential tools before I had work.

These are some of the most common mistakes guys and gals make when they try to start their own painting business.

Instead of doing all that ineffective stuff, all you need is something to help you get started.

Have you ever tried to start a business?

Or have you been too scared because you thought you might fail?

That's why I put together How I Started My Painting Business for $50.

It gives you:

-How to get tools and materials when you get your first job, not before.

-How to set up contracts and estimates.

-How to hit your deadlines.

-How to get customers and keep them happy (giving you all the work you want thru referrals).

-How to grow your business.

It's already helped people all around the U.S get their painting businesses started (and actually make profits)...

So, let's get you started today!
